An evening of Double Takes

05 April 2012

What's this, David Beckham and David Seaman performing the highland fling with Sven in the dressing room? Elton John and Liz Hurley at it in the bedroom? It can't be true, yet it looks as if we've caught them on film.

If you've seen BBC2's Double Take, the hilarious show where celebrity lookalikes perform slightly strange antics in what look like their normal surroundings, then now's your chance to meet the artist behind those shots - and enjoy a free cocktail or two.

Alison Jackson will be hosting a talk at the National Portrait Gallery in the evening of Thursday November 13, and we've got 30 pairs of tickets to give away.

Not only that, you'll get the chance to see all the winners of the Schweppes Photographic Portrait Prize, which showcases great new talent in portrait photography.

All you have to do to enter the competition is CLICK HERE and answer a simple question!

Entries must be in before 12 noon on Thursday, November 13. Good luck!
